

“Personal Image is Everything”

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

August 7, 2010

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Aisha S. Milton

Media Liaison

202.445.8697

ishmila@gmail.com

marvthebarb@gmail.com

GROOMING GURU TAKES HIS EXPERTISE TO MOVIE SETS AWARDS SHOWS AND MAGAZINES

Washington, D.C. based stylist Marv the Barb Church wraps up 2nd movie and sees more opportunity to expand his brand.

Washington, D.C. — Marvin Church, also known as “Marv the Barb” has just concluded the production for “At The Top Of The Pyramid,” a movie starring Hollywood veterans Dean Cain and Steve Guttenberg. This is the 2nd movie for Marvin, who was on the creative styling team for 2009’s “Vengeance,” starring acting legend, Danny Trejo.

Successfully juggling his time at Patrick Segui Salon in downtown, D.C, Marvin used his spare time to work on “Pyramid.” He was called on by Executive Producer Richard Willis, Jr. to perform the essential and personal grooming needs of the entire cast, including model Isaac J. Sullivan and Disney’s Elle McLemore.

Marvin was honored in 2008 to work on a national ad campaign for LUGZ shoes where he styled two Mixed Martial Artist Fighters. The blazing barber has also been featured in several magazines that reach millions of readers worldwide, including JET, Washingtonian Magazine and City Paper, where he was rated #2 as D.C.’s best barber.

In 2006, Marvin flew to Los Angeles, California to groom celebrities before they hit the stage at the EPSY Awards. At the “invitation only” event, the grooming expert was privileged to tighten up Darius McCrary of “Family Matters” fame.

Marvin said in a recent interview with an ABC2 news producer in Baltimore, “I have given my life to barbering and cosmetology. All I want to do is make people look good.”

If you are looking for an exclusive, pampered experience in the Washington area-look no further. Marvin Church is setting the tone because his motto is “Personal Image is Everything,” and he delivers every time.

###